You answered 3 out of 3 questions correctly

1. It is vitally important to remain situationally aware during the Evacuate step.

After the Secure OPORD stage is complete, operators often become complacent when exiting the facility. Therefore, operators must remain in an ORANGE state so as to support a clean exit and fully executed mission.

2. Dash movements can be used when en route to the Rally Point by dashing for about 5 seconds between each area of cover.

Dash movements should last about 5 seconds in-between areas of cover. There must be a targeted destination of cover for each dash movement.

3. It's okay to move things around on a messy desk since the owner will not notice.

Avoid moving papers, keyboards, mice, monitors, staplers and just about anything on a user's desk whether it is messy or not, unless necessary according to the RoE. In some cases, it may be necessary to do so. Move things around with extreme caution and place items back in the exact same position.

Do not, however, assume the owners of messy desks will not notice when things are moved around.
